

HER HEAD IS LOW

Mrs. Osborne on Trial for Stealing Jewelry.

IS ABASHED BEFORE THE COURT

The Defendant a Lady of Hitherto High Standing—Dismissed on One Charge But Arrested Again.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Mrs. Florence Ethel Osborne, who voluntarily surrendered herself to the police Thursday to answer charges made against her in connection with the theft and sale for $500 of a quantity of valuable jewelry belonging to Mrs. Hargreaves, formerly an intimate friend of the accused, was formally arraigned before Lord Mayor Evans at 2 a. m.

Sympathy for the husband. The crowd anxious to listen to the proceedings was so large that it was found necessary to detail an extra force of police to keep some sort of order among the crowd, pushing through. Sympathy was expressed on all sides for Capt. Osborne, the husband of the unfortunate lady, who has stood nobly beside his wife through all report and even when he knew beyond doubt that she had committed the crime that has brought such heavy disgrace upon herself and to him. Many of the crowd expressed the hope that for his sake the law would deal leniently with the prisoner and that justice would be tempered with a goodly measure of mercy.

A Sad Scene. When the court had been formally opened Mrs. Osborne's solicitor arose and announced that Mrs. Osborne had surrendered herself voluntarily to the police in order to meet the charges against her. Lord Mayor Evans said he was unable to proceed with the case until the treasury was represented.

Then ensued a long wait, which proved too much for the strained nerves of Mrs. Osborne. She seemed to be choking and became hysterical. Her husband fanned her and gave her a glass of water, but nothing seemed to calm her. Finally the scene became extremely painful, and at the lord mayor's suggestion she was taken to an adjoining committee room to await the coming of the representative of the treasury. Capt. Osborne supported her on one side and a stalwart detective on the other. They were compelled almost to carry her and as they neared the door of the committee room, she placed her arms around her husband's neck and would have fallen to the floor had not he and the detective supported her. As she was carried from the court room there was a murmur of pity from the spectators. It was without doubt one of the saddest scenes ever witnessed in a London court room and the abject misery and helplessness of the unfortunate woman touched all hearts.

Discharged. Finally Hon. Mr. Cuffe, representing the treasury, appeared in the court room, and to the astonishment of the court, of the prisoners, and of all others present, announced that the treasury did not intend to offer any evidence against Mrs. Osborne. The lord mayor, as soon as he had recovered from the state of dumfoundedness into which he had been plunged by the announcement of the treasury's determination, discharged the prisoner, and she left the courtroom amidst applause.

One reason given for the failure of the treasury officials to press the charge of false pretenses against Mrs. Osborne is that Major and Mrs. Hargreaves positively refused to appear in court against the unhappy lady and that the treasury was compelled to adopt another line of prosecution which will force Major and Mrs. Hargreaves to give testimony in the case.

Re-arrested. Mrs. Osborne was re-arrested shortly after leaving the Guildhall, placed in a cab and driven to the Bow Street police court, where she was formally charged with perjury. The news of this second step upon the part of the authorities was kept a secret in the Guildhall in order to prevent a rush of people to Bow street. The prisoner was crying bitterly when placed in the dock at the famous police court; but even in that trying position she was supported by her husband, Capt. Osborne, who accompanied her to the Guildhall and into the prisoners' dock at Bow street, doing his utmost to console his suffering wife. At Bow street evidence of the arrest and charge were given and Mrs. Osborne was formally remanded for a week without bail.

ADOPTION OF THE NEW RULES.

Discussion Closed and Mr. Reed's Substitute Rejected—Day in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—In the house the joint resolution authorizing the secretary of the treasury to pay to the state of West Virginia the sum of $151,978 due it under the provisions of the direct tax law, notwithstanding any claim of the United States against the state of Virginia, was referred.

Consideration of the proposed rules was resumed. Mr. Enloe's (Tenn.) resolution to amend the rules by providing that eulogies to deceased members shall be delivered on Sundays (and Sundays only), on which day the ceremonies shall be opened with prayer by the chaplain, was defeated after debate by a vote of 155 to 92. Various propositions were made having for their object the abolition of the custom of the setting apart days for eulogies on deceased members, but they were all rejected.

The consideration of the rules reported by the committee on rules having been concluded, Mr. Reed (Me.), on behalf of the republicans, offered as a substitute therefor the rules of the Fifty-first congress. Lost without division. The code of rules was then agreed to.

In the senate in the absence of Vice President Morton, who has gone to New York for a few days, the chair was occupied by Senator Manderson (Neb.), president pro tem. Senator Frisbie (O.) introduced a bill for the erection of a monument at Put in Bay, N. Y. to commemorate the battle of Lake Erie in 1813. Referred. Senator Puffer (Kan.) offered a resolution, which was agreed to, changing the day for holding special services in memory of Senator Plumb to February 13.

The report of the committee on privileges and elections in the case of the Florida senators declaring Mr. Call entitled to the seat) was taken up for action, and the report was read, closing with the sentence: "The appointment of Mr. Davidson was an act of mere irrelevancy which it is not necessary further to notice." After a long debate the resolution was agreed to without a division.

WILL BUILD A WIGWAM.

Democrats at Chicago Discussing Plans for the National Convention.

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—Chicago democrats will be required to build a wigwam in which to hold the national democratic convention. This was the chief result of Thursday's conference between the managing committees. A conference was held at the Palmer house in which the special committee having in charge the preparations laid before Mr. Sherin, the secretary of the national committee, the situation so far as the hall room is concerned. The delegation consisted of F. H. Winston, Potter Palmer, W. S. Bogie and John P. Hopkins. They reported that it would be impossible to secure the interstate exposition building, and the auditorium was the remaining resort. Mr. Sherin said the national committee would demand a much larger hall, and under no circumstances would consider the auditorium. It was too small for the purpose of a national convention, which would require a seating capacity of 15,000 to 20,000 people.

That settled one question and the others were deferred at the request of Mr. Sherin, who asked that further action as to appointment of committees and settling preliminary matters be postponed until the national committee can give advice and direction to the movement.

It is conceded that a wigwam must be constructed, but there may be difficulty about procuring a central and suitable site. The plot of ground north of Battery D on the lake front is especially desired. It is said, however, that Mr. Montgomery Ward has a perpetual injunction upon its occupancy, and to place the wigwam there it would be necessary to give proper guaranty that none of his rights should be lost by the concession for a temporary structure. Members of the committee have strong hopes of holding the convention there.

LOCAL OPTION FOR IOWA.

Democratic Senators Report the Schmidt Bill and It Is Made a Special Order.

DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 5.—The Schmidt local option bill was favorably reported to the senate Thursday by the committee on the suppression of intemperance, and by unanimous consent was set for special consideration at 11 o'clock next Thursday morning. Senator Reinigle was granted leave to file a minority report.

Senator Yeoman's bill prohibiting the entering of a "ringer" or the driving of one for a prize on the tracks of any Iowa association or fair under penalty of a sentence of not more than one year in the county jail or three years in the penitentiary or fine not exceeding $1,000 was ordered engrossed. Senator Vale's bill providing for the imprisonment in the penitentiary of any one maliciously killing, maiming, disfiguring or poisoning horses or cattle or domestic animals belonging to another was ordered engrossed. Senator Kelley's bill to allow counties to sell swamp lands at public auction was adopted.

In the house the discussion of the Sunday pay for employees occupied nearly the entire session. The committee on judiciary reported that in their opinion the house could not change the pay of such employees, as it was fixed by law. The house committee on woman suffrage has decided to report on the bills of Mr. Dolph to confer municipal and school suffrage on women, recommending that the bills pass.

The governor does not say so, but the Italian government interested itself in Trezza's behalf and its representatives secured the new testimony which saved his life.

ALL MADE TO PAY

The Chilean Officials Pass Sentence on Three Men.

PUNISHING DARING RIOTERS

They Must Serve Many Days in Prison for Their Attack on the American Sailors.

VALPARAISO, Feb. 5.—Judge of Crimes Foster on Thursday passed sentence in the long-pending and much-discussed Baltimore assault case of October 15, 1891. His sentence is subject to review by the court of appeals. The argument covers 180 pages and goes all over again the evidence against the accused and compares it closely with the evidence presented by the prisoners. The finding of the court is as follows:

Gomez Gets 330 Days.

Carlos Arena, alias Gomez, sentenced to 530 days' imprisonment for wounding William Turnbull, the coalheaver of the Baltimore, who died of his injuries; 300 days for public disorder, 60 days for carrying a knife and 30 days for giving an assumed name. This makes a total of 920 days.

Jose Ahumada, sentenced to 320 days' imprisonment for injuring Turnbull.

Did Not Kill Riggins.

Frederico Rodriguez sentenced to 140 days' imprisonment for wounding Boat-swainmate Charles W. Riggins, another of the murdered American seamen, for public disorder and for carrying a knife. It is held by Judge Foster that the evidence does not show that Rodriguez killed Riggins. On the contrary, it is claimed that Riggins' death was caused by a shot which was fired by some unknown person.

Must Pay Damages.

Gomez and Rodriguez, under the Chilean penal code, must pay the families of Turnbull and Riggins damages. These damages are recoverable by civil suit.

Guarding Egan's House.

It is expected that appeals will be taken.

WILL BE COLUMBIA'S FAIR.

National Commissioners to Ask Congress for Funds.

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—It is now practically settled that the Chicago world's fair directory will not ask congress to give them a dollar in aid of the Columbian exposition. The proposition to go before congress and solicit a loan of $5,000,000 and the movement to have Uncle Sam invest in $5,000,000 of world's fair stock will be both abandoned and in their stead a bill will be brought forward by the national commission asking congress to appropriate about $4,000,000 to be expended by the national commissioners appointed by the president.

If this appropriation is secured, no part of the $4,000,000 will be spent on the grounds and buildings of the exposition. The entire sum will be paid out for administrative purposes on the lines laid down by the law of congress creating the exposition. Gen. J. W. St. Clair, of West Virginia, and his associates on the committee of federal legislation of the national board outlined the plan of campaign and it is as good as settled that the local directors will endorse Gen. St. Clair's action. President Baker stands alone in opposing the new plan.

Previously, however, a shortage of $1,000 was found and he shot himself in his left eye. It did not kill him, and his friends made good the amount belonging to the company.
